Houston, TX 77041

To Whom It May Concern:

Plains Exploration & Production Company has been working with Stargel Office Solutions for many years and through the mergers and acquisitions that make up the company in its present form. They have always been extremely responsive and have offered solutions to our reproduction and printing needs. Stargel Office Solutions has become our one-stop shop for our locations nationwide and they continue to provide service after the sale when problems have arisen in any of our locations. Quality product, knowledgeable and helpful sales reps and service techs and excellent customer service has kept us a customer after all these years.

Sincerely,

Brenda L. Collier
Director, Facilities & Administration
